THE RED LION

November 2026

GIGS START AT 9.00PM UNLESS STATED

November has arrived in Arundel with a bang! The skies are ablaze, the bonfires are roaring and the Border Morris dancers have emerged from the shadows, rattling their sticks and generally looking like they've been summoned from a particularly unsettling folk tale. There's something wonderfully primal about this time of year. Fire, folklore, dark evenings and the occasional mysterious figure lurking in the smoke. It's enough to make you reach for another pint.

Fortunately, The Red Lion offers a rather more civilised form of November entertainment. The beer is flowing, the kitchen is busy and we've assembled another cracking line-up of live music to keep those winter blues at bay. So pull up a chair, raise a glass and join us. The nights may be getting darker, but things are certainly heating up at The Lion.

THURSDAY 5TH OPEN MIC

Remember, remember the fifth of November! Forget gunpowder, treason and plot – we're supplying the stage, you supply the talent. Sing, strum, entertain or simply enjoy a pint while somebody else lights the musical fuse.

FRIDAY 6TH MACBAND

Back at The Lion, Duncan brings his considerable guitar wizardry and musical pedigree. An evening in very capable hands, assisted by Chris Hunt and Jim Barr.

SATURDAY 7TH OUTATIME

Great Scott! Outatime are back, and the flux capacitor is running dangerously hot. Expect an evening of musical time travel, familiar favourites and the sort of Saturday-night enthusiasm that might require a trip back to Sunday morning to recover from. Roads? Where we're going, we don't need roads.

FRIDAY 13TH TRIPLE X

Friday the 13th? Lucky us! Three seasoned rockers delivering Hendrix, Cream, Zeppelin and The Who. No superstition required.

SATURDAY 14TH CROSSFIRE

November's fireworks aren't quite finished. Crossfire roll into the pub with a name that promises trouble and a Saturday-night slot that practically demands it. Take cover at the bar, order something refreshing and prepare for a little friendly fire. Earplugs optional, enthusiasm encouraged.

THURSDAY 19TH ORIGINALS OPEN MIC

Fresh songs, fresh words, fresh ideas, no covers. Our monthly showcase for musicians, songwriters andpoets brave enough to share something entirely their own. Original music, poetry and spoken word, straight from the source.

FRIDAY 20TH DUCK SOUP

Duck Soup. A name that raises more questions than it answers, which is precisely how we like our Friday nights. If this is the Brighton folk trio, expect traditional tunes, music-hall eccentricity and a musical menu with some gloriously unexpected ingredients. No actual ducks will be harmed in the making of this entertainment.

SATURDAY 21ST BUSTIN A GROOVE

It's not so much a band name as a direct order. Bustin a Groove are here. You know what to do.

FRIDAY 27TH JULIETTE & THE ECHOES

There's something wonderfully evocative about Juliette & the Echoes. A touch of romance, a suggestion of intrigue and a name made for a Friday-night stage. As November draws towards its chilly conclusion, join us for an evening of live music, good company and the reassuring warmth of The Red Lion.

SATURDAY 28TH SATURDAY NIGHT FUNERAL

November's final Saturday and dearly beloved Saturday Night Funeral are officiating. Black ties optional, pints compulsory. Nobody's going quietly.

Don't forget...
